THE BOX TUNNEL.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "CHRISTIE JOHNSTONE."

The 10. 15 train glided from Paddington, May 7, 1847. In the left compartment of a certain first-class carriage were four passengers; of these, singular enough two were worth description.—The lady had a smooth, white, delicate brow, strongly marked eyebrows, long lashes, eyes that seemed to change color, and a good sized delicious mouth, with teeth as white as milk. A man could not see her nose for her eyes and mouth, her own sex could and would have told us some nonsense about it. She wore an unpretending greyish dress, buttoned to the throat with lozenge-shaped buttons, and a Scotch shawl that agreeably evaded the responsibility of color.—She was like a duck, so tight her plain feathers fitted her; and there she sat, smooth, snug, and delicious, with a book in her hand, and a soupçon of her snowy wrist barely visible as she held it.

Her opposite neighbor was what I call a good sort of man — the more to his credit, since he belonged to a corporation that frequently turns out the worst imaginable style of man. He was a cavalry officer, aged twenty-five. He had a moustache, but not a very repulsive one; it was far from being one of those subnasal pig tails on which soup is suspended like dew on a shrub; it was short, thick, and black as a coal. His teeth had not yet been turned by tobacco smoke to the color of tobacco juice, his clothes did not stick to nor hang on him, they sat on him; he had an engaging smile, and what I like the dog for, his vanity, which was inordinate, was in its proper place, his heart, not in his face, jostling mine and others', who have none—in a word, he was what one oftener hears of than meets—a young gentleman. He was conversing in an animated whisper with a companion, a fellow officer—they were talking about what it is far better not to do, woman. Our friend clearly did not wish to be overheard, for he cast, ever and anon, a furtive glance at his fair vis-a vis, and lowered his voice. She seemed completely absorbed in her book, and that reassured him. At last the two soldiers came down to a whisper, and in that whisper (the truth must be told) the one who got down at Slough, and was lost to posterity, bet ten pounds to three, that he who was going down with us to Bath and immortality, would not kiss either of the ladies opposite upon the road.

"Done! done!" was the response.

Now I am sorry a man I have hitherto praised should have lent himself, even in a whisper, to such a speculation, but "nobody is wise at all hours," not even when the clock is striking five and twenty; and you are to consider his profession, his good looks, and the temptation—ten to three.

After Slough the party was reduced to three; at Twyford one lady dropped her handkerchief, and Captain Dolignan fell on it like a tiger and returned it like a lamb; two or three words were interchanged on that occasion. At Reading, the Marlborough of our tale made one of the safe investments of the day, he bought a "Times" and a "Punch;" the latter was full of steel-pen thrusts and wood-cuts. Valor and beauty deigned to laugh at some inflated humbug or other punctured by Punch. Now laughing together thaws our human ice; long before Swindow it was a talking match—at Swindon, who so devoted as Captain Dolignan—he handed them out—he souped them—he tough chickened them—he brandied and cochinealed one and burnt-sugared the other; on their return to the carriage, one lady passed into the inner compartment to inspect a certain gentleman's seat on that side the line.

Reader, had it been you or I, the beauty would have been the deserter, the average one would have stayed with us, till all was blue, ourselves included; not more surely does our slice of bread and butter, when it escapes from our hand, revolve it ever so often, alight face downwards on the carpet. But this was a bit of a fop, Adonis, dragoon—so Venus remained in tete a tete with him. You have seen a dog meet an unknown female of his species; how handsome, how empresse, how expressive he becomes,—such was Dolignan after Swindow, and to do the dog justice, he got handsomer and handsomer; and you have seen a cat conscious of approaching cream,—such was Miss Haythorn, she became demurer and demurer; presently our captain looked out of the window and laughed, this elicited an inquiring look from Miss Haythorn. We are only a mile from the Box Tunnel."—"Do you always laugh a mile from the Box Tunnel?" said the lady.

"Invariably."

"What for?"

"Why! hem! it is a gentleman's joke."

"Oh! I dont mind it's being silly if it makes me laugh." Captain Dolignan thus encouraged, recounted to Miss Haythorn the following:—A lady and her husband sat together going through the Box Tunnel—there was one gentleman opposite, it was pitch dark; after the tunnel, the lady said, 'George how absurd of you to salute me going through the tunnel.'—I did no such thing!'—You didn't—'No! why?'—'Why, because somehow I thought you did.'" Here Captain Dolignan laughed and endeavored to lead his companion to laugh, but it was not to be done. The train entered the Tunnel.

Miss Haythorn. "Ah!"

Dolignan. "What is the matter?"

Miss H. "I am frightened."

Dol. (moving to her side,) "Pray do not be alarmed, I am near you."

Miss H. "You are near me, very near me indeed, Capt. Dolignan."

Dol. "You know my name?"

Miss H. "I heard your friend mention it. I wish we were out of this dark place."

Dol. "I could be content to spend hours here, reassuring you, sweet lady."

Miss H. "Nonsense!"

Dol. Pweep! (Grave reader, do not put your lips to the cheek of the next pretty creature you meet, or you will understand what this means.)

Miss H. "Eh!"

Friend. "What is the matter?"

Miss H. "Open the door! open the door!"

There was a sound of hurried whispers, the door was shut and the blind pulled down with hostile sharpness.

If any critic falls on me for putting inarticulate sounds in a dialogue as above; I answer, with all the insolence I can command at present, "Hit boys as big as yourself," bigger perhaps, such as Sophocles, Euripides, and Aristophanes; they began it, and I learned it of them, sore against my will.

Miss Haythorn's scream lost a part of its effect because the engine whistled forty thousand murders at the same moment; and fictitious grief makes itself heard when real cannot.

Between the tunnel and Bath our young friend had time to ask himself whether his conduct had been marked by that delicate reserve which is supposed to distinguish the perfect gentleman.

With a long face, real or feigned, he held open the door,—his late friends attempted to escape on the other side, impossible! they must pass him. She whom he had insulted (Latin for kissed) deposited, somewhere at his foot a look of gentle blushing reproach; the other, whom he had not insulted darted red hot daggers at him from her eyes, and so they parted.

It was, perhaps, fortunate for Dolignan that he had the grace to be friends with Major Hoskyns of his regiment, a veteran laughed at by the youngsters, for the major was too apt to look coldly upon billiard balls and cigars; he had seen cannon upon balls and linstocks; he had also, to tell the truth, swallowed a good bit of the mess room poker, but with it some sort of moral poker, which made it as impossible for Major Hoskyns to descend to an ungentleman-like word or action, as to brush his own trousers below the knee.

Captain Dolignan told this gentleman his story in gleeful accents; but Major Haskyns heard him coldly, and as coldly answered that he had known a man lose his life for the same thing; "That is nothing" continued the Major, "but unfortunately he deserved to lose it."

As this the blood mounted to the younger man's temples, and his senior added, "I mean to say he was thirty-five, you, I presume are twenty one."

"Twenty-five"

"That is much the same thing, will you be advised by me?"

"If you will advise me."

Speak to no one of this and send White the three pounds that he may think you have lost the bet.

"That is hard as I won it!"

"Do it for all that, sir."

JULLIEN'S MUSICAL GIFTS FOR 1855.
ONE HUNDRED PIANOS FOR THE PEOPLE.—The subscriber having secured the copy right of the only correct Edition of M. Jullien's Music, including the AMERICAN & CALIFORNIAN QUADRILLES, will issue immediately, the work being now in press.
ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND BOOKS,
containing all Jullien's popular and fashionable Music; to be called JULLIEN'S MUSIC FOR THE MILLION.
Price One Dollar.
The work will be beautifully printed, on fine paper, with an exquisitely illuminated Title Page, and a correct portrait of the great composer and conductor, M. JULLIEN. The object of the subscriber in so greatly reducing the price of his copy right edition of M. Jullien's popular Music, is to create a diversion in favor of GOOD MUSIC against that wretched class of bad music with which the country is flooded, to the destruction of all that is good and pure in the Musical Art. The music contained in this book, if bought in single pieces, will cost $6, or just six times the cost of Jullien's Book of Music for the Million. In order to carry out this design, and to afford a further inducement to the purchasers of Jullien's Music for the Million, the subscriber will distribute among them ONE HUNDRED PIANOS, made by the best manufacturers in the country, fully guaranteed, and classified as follows:
5 Superb Rosewood Pianos, each $450

The season of Friendly Gifts being at hand, an opportunity in every way so favorable should be attended to at once. The earliest subscribers will receive the first copies of the book, the edition being so enormous that much time will be needed to produce the whole. A numbered receipt will be given or sent with each book. The subscriber refers with pleasure to the perfect success of his Jullien's Musical Gifts of 1851—52, and the entire satisfaction of all who subscribed at that period, is the surest guarantee that every engagement will be faithfully carried out. The books are now open, and subscriptions will be received at the store of the subscriber. All letters, postpaid, including orders for the "Jullien Book," will be attended to promptly. Price $1 each.

Sewing Machines.
SINGER'S PATENT STRAIGHT NEEDLE PERPENDICULAR Action Sewing Machines, which have acquired an unequalled reputation for excellence, in all parts of the world, for every variety of Sewing, are now offered at the reduced cash price of one hundred dollars. The clear profit from the use of these machines is from $500 to $1000 a year, depending on the kind of work done.
We wish to call the attention of manufacturers particularly to our newly invented and entirely original Machine to Sew with a Single Thread.
This instrument is so admirable in contrivance, and so perfect in its operation and result, that it commands the unqualified approval of all who understand the art of Sewing by machinery. For linen stitching this is the only machine that can make a stitch, which will remain distinct and beautiful after washing. For shoe work and every sort of leather sewing, bag making, mattresses, and all Sewing in which great strength of seam is required, the work of this machine cannot be equalled. It is more simple in its construction, and much more easily managed and operated than any other.
Hereafter we shall be prepared to supply a variety of Sewing machines—each perfect and complete of its kind, at the following cash prices:
1. Needle and shuttle machine of present style, on wood en box $100
2. Needle and shuttle machine of present style, on iron frame 110
3. Needle and shuttle machine, with newly invented feed motion and checked spring 125
4. Single threaded machines for linen and other light sewing 125

INTERESTING FROM WASHINGTON—FILIBUSTERO EXPEDITION—KOSSUTH AND AN EUROPEAN WAR.

It is said, from very good authority, that trustworthy information has reached the seat of government that a powerful fillibuster expedition is preparing against Cuba, and will sail some time before the middle of February. It is intended that the entire force shall consist of some four thousand men, led by officers of tried skill and bravery, with a general who gained laurels in Mexico at their head. The enlistments are proceeding with every effort to keep the matter strictly private. Each man is subjected to the scrutiny of the Order of the Lone Star before being admitted, and is required to take an oath not to divulge the secret. It is believed that at least one member of the Cabinet is well aware of the movement. While the bulk of the expedition will sail from New Orleans, other cities will also send forth their quotas to the army of Manifest Destiny. It is expected that the Creoles of Cuba will not leave these heroes in the lurch as they did those of Lopez, but will rise to support them and achieve their own emancipation.

The real patriots of Cuba do not share the negro-driving aspirations of our Southern filibusters, but ardently look forward to the day when Slavery will cease to exist on the island.

[illegible] is earnestly preparing for the eventualities of a general European war. When the new steamship Golden Age was at Liverpool recently,—Kossuth went down from London to see Mr. Howard, her owner, with a view to negotiate for that splendid vessel. He wanted her to go up the Mediterranean, expecting that the beginning of the cataclasm would render necessary a revolutionary force in that quarter. For some days the matter was kept in suspense, but the outbreak did not occur so soon as was anticipated, and accordingly the Golden Age went to California.

THE ATLANTA BANK EXPOSED.

We have frequently noticed the peculiar character and irresponsibility of George Smith's paper money manufactory in Atlanta, Georgia, but the exposition which has recently been made, in an official communication of the Governor of Georgia to the Legislature of that State, shows it to be even worse than we had supposed it. The following facts are from the Governor's report:

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

VASCONSELOS. A Romance of the New World. By Frank Cooper. New York, Redfield, 110 Nassau st.; Chicago, D. B. Cooke & Co., [illegible] Lake st.

It has been well remarked that it is the province of romance, even more decidedly than history, to recall the deeds and adventures of the past. The more a history possesses of the elements of romance, either in its style or matter, that much more does its real interest increase. It is this characteristic which has rendered Macauley's England so universally popular, and which has caused his pages to be devoured with an avidity not excelled by the readers of the most "thrilling" novel. The present work is one which affords but little that is really novel or original in plot or detail, yet furnishing as pleasant an entertainment as could be expected from scenes and characters drawn out of the early history of the Spanish American Colonies, which has been sacked and ransacked so thoroughly for heroes and heroines of historical romance.—In this work two Portuguese brothers named Vasconselos, together with De Soto, Alvaro, and a number of the leading colonists of Cuba and Florida figure in the principal characters. The niece and ward of Alvaro is beloved by each of the two brothers, and returns the affections of one of them; but, falling a victim to the villainous drugs of her guardian, who takes advantage of her helplessness to gratify his own beastly propensities, she rejects the man whom she loves under a sense of shame and disgrace, though not of guilt, yet follows him in disguise as his page, through the everglades of Florida, and finally dies in his arms on the banks of the Mississippi. The characters are distinct and well sustained, and the features and incidents of Spanish colonial life depicted with ease and boldness.

GOLDEN LINK; or, Tales and Poems for the Young. By [illegible]. Chicago, A. H. & C. Burley, 123 Lake street.

A most appropriate name for a most excellent little book; one of those books which we would gladly see in the hands of every child, for its perusal could hardly fail to make them happier, better, more resolute, and better prepared for the life struggle that is before them. It is written in an elegant and correct style—nothing low, puerile, or what, for want of a better term, we designate as "childish," but replete with lofty, pure, and refining thoughts, couched in equally pure and elevating language. We cannot give a better idea of the merit of the work than by transcribing a passage or two, from a description of the Garden of Eden.

> * * * All these things made that state, man and woman the happiest of beings. The pure world, which was a garden around them, was full of joy and peace. Not a thorn or discordant note was heard in all the melody, or in the voices of the large creatures that walked in the paths of that beautiful place. From the hour of Adam and Eve a grateful incense rose up, and their souls were bound to Heaven by a strong and holy Golden Link.
> The chain that bound all these, from the least to the highest, was but a small part of that which stretched along up the starry and rejoicing skies to the Creator's Throne. [illegible]

This "Golden Link" would make a most admirable Christmas present, and would serve, perchance, to bind in happy union, the memory of childhood's days with the sterner and more mournful realities of future years.

THE LIQUOR LAW.

Does not work so effectually in Michigan as was expected when it went into force a fortnight ago. A Justice of the Peace, named Bagg, in Detroit, having assumed the responsibility of declaring the law unconstitutional, various liquor dealers throughout the State have re-opened their traffic, and when arrested, appeal their cases, confidently expecting that the law will be declared invalid by the Supreme Court.—There is no doubt that all influence that money and political combinations can have on that tribunal will be brought to bear directly upon it, to get a decision [illegible] to the law. The Detroit Free Press, [illegible] as of the lowest part of the Democratic party of that State, takes the [illegible] in the war against the law.

For the Tribune.

THE VENTILATION OF OUR PUBLIC HALLS.

The amount of air actually inhaled by an adult at each breath is about one-sixth of a cubic foot per minute, but this after exhalation vitiates by diffusion two or three cubic feet of pure air.—The quantity of ventilation necessary for each person in a room is assumed at four cubic feet per minute. An audience of 700 persons then require 2800 cubic feet per minute. The South Market Hall contains about 31,000 cubic feet of air, above the average level of the mouths of a seated audience. This would be a supply for seventeen minutes, if all of it could be breathed once before any of it were breathed twice; but from imperfect diffusion it can hardly be counted on for half that time. Indeed this should be regarded merely as a reserve by which the supply should always be kept in advance of the demand.

It is a merciful provision that the cause of our want of fresh air affords the means of supplying it. The difference of gravity between hot and cold air is the motive power. Air expands 1-480 its bulk for every added degree of temperature; of course the same bulk weighs 1-480 less per each degree. If the thermometer stands at 70 deg within an apartment, and at 35 deg. in the open air, which is an average case, the warm air weighs 35-480 or about 1-14 less per cubic foot than cold air. Now suppose a tube shaped like the letter U, standing upright, with its branches 15 feet long, one filled with air at 70 deg., the other with air at 35 deg., a column of cold air 14 feet high would balance one 15 feet high on the warm side. Now if cold air be supplied so as to keep the cold branch constantly full, a current is induced toward the warmer branch with a velocity due to the pressure of the added foot of air. The result is the same whether the current flows through a pipe, or whether an upward and a downward current establish themselves in the surrounding air without a pipe. In either case the velocity is determined by the law of falling bodies—that is, the velocity of the current will be that which a falling body will have acquired after having passed through a space equal to the difference in height of the two columns when in equilibrium. In the case supposed the velocity will be that due to a fall of one foot, which is eight feet per second. For other heights this velocity will vary with the square root of the height.

It is evident that the escape of the hot foul air would naturally be at the highest point of the room, and the admission of fresh air at the bottom. The best system of natural ventilation is that by which the air is first warmed and then diffused through the room at the floor, to be breathed once, and then rising by the heat given it in the body, to escape at the ceiling. The next best, perhaps, is where the inflowing current is directed upon the stove to be heated before diffusion; but the diffusion is likely to be imperfect, causing great differences of temperature in different parts of the room. A third way is to depend on the leakage or admission of cold air which forms a stratum near the floor, and rises thence to take the place of the hot air withdrawn above. This has all the effect of a cold foot bath.

The poorest but most easily applied method is that wherein the same aperture answers for the admission of fresh air and the expulsion of the foul, as in the case of a window lowered at the top. It is easily available as a temporary expedient to be applied to the lecture hall. It is certainly very objectionable, for the part of the room above the window tops becomes a stagnant reservoir without possible outlet, where the fœtid air cools and becomes heavy; it then drops like lead upon the crowd below, and like lead carries poison to their bodies. Besides windows are liable to be opened wide by those who feel oppressed by the heat, and the people near them are exposed, by a sudden cold air bath, to diseases and discomforts as injurious as those from defective ventilation. But let us see how this remedy, poor as it is, can be best applied.

There are in South Market Hall twenty four windows, each 8 × 3½ feet, with their tops eleven feet from the floor. By the law which I have quoted above, the velocity of a current 11 feet high with a difference of temperature of 35 deg. is 6 7 feet per second. Allowing ⅓ for friction and for the conflict of the two opposing currents passing through the same aperture, we have 4½ feet per second, or 270 feet per minute, as the available velocity. The total area of aperture required for the admission of 2800 cubic feet of air, flowing at the rate of 270 feet per minute, would be 10⅓ square feet; this divided among 24 windows, each 3½ feet wide, gives 1½ inches as the width of each opening. But since the same openings are used for the outflowing air, they should have twice this width, or 3 inches each. About 200 cubic feet a minute will sift in through the door and window casings.

Suppose now that on lecture nights, the hall were to be thoroughly heated before the doors are opened, and that, half an hour before the lecture begins, every window were opened three inches, and no more, at the top, and kept in that position during the evening. The jets of cold air entering through this number of small aperatures would be so diffused and warmed in falling that probably no one would feel any inconvenience, yet the effect in ventilation I think would be very decided.

Is the experiment worth trying for the comfort and health of future audiences, till the City Goverment shall do something to make the halls fit for the use for which they were built? G.

FOREIGN ITEMS.

John B. Gough, the American temperance orator, is lecturing successfully in Europe. We noticed an advertisement in a Liverpool paper, that he is engaged to lecture in different towns till February, 1854.

During the last excavations made at Pompeii, several human skeletons, and one of a dog, were discovered, pressed one upon each other. Two gold rings, ornamented with cameos, were found on the fingers of the left hand of one of the skeletons. The remains of an antique villa have been discovered between Acerno and Scafati, on the banks of the Sarno, at a depth of only three or four feet under the level of the earth.

The Moniteur informs the public, that no telegraphic dispatch can leave Paris until it has been presented at one of the four offices which it enumerates.

M. de Saulcy's discovery of the sites of Sodom and Gomorrah is considered one of the most striking within the whole range of Biblical antiquity. The disinterment of Nineveh is, as a matter of feeling, a small matter compared with the discovery of Sodom and Gomorrah. There is something strangely awful in the idea of these living monuments of Divine vengeance yet remaining, after six-and-thirty centuries, with the actual marks of the instrument of the overthrow still visible upon their blasted ruins.

The Swedish government has decided on a vast system of railways, the execution of which will be confided to an English company. The government has formally interdicted the Mormons from publicly performing their worship in Norway.

Prince Jerome Bonaparte, brother of Louis Napoleon, has just completed his 79th year.

WESTERN TRAVEL.

Getting aground on the Ohio is not a very agreeable business at any time but the way some of those Cincinnati and Pittsburgh captains manage passengers after they are "stuck" is in this wise: Fifteen boats aground at Buffington's bar, twice fifteen yawls employed in putting the passengers on shore, except a few who are willing to stand "gouging" at 50c. per meal, on boiled beef and fried potatoes. One boat, recently on the bar, put up bills around the boat announcing that the trip was at an end, and 50 cents a meal would be charged to all who remained aboard. Some were put ashore in the yawl, without any efforts to find them quarters or board, and then charged $1 per head for the use of the yawl.—St. Louis News.

Fifteen boats aground on a single bar, the passengers of one driven ashore or made to pay fifty cents per meal on board, and yet these Ohio boats receive a considerable number of passengers, who if properly advised would go by the railroad from Alton to Chicago and thence to any eastern destination in less time and with as much comfort as they could find on the Ohio river steamers.

Travellers who regard speed and comfort, will certainly go by the way of Chicago.—Springfield (Ill.) Register.

THE BREMEN STEAMERS.

The Washington Union announces, authoritatively, that the remaining steamers of the Bremen line the Washington and Hermann, have been hauled up for repairs, and no mails will be dispatched to Europe by that line till January 20th.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

New York City, Dec. 14, 1853.

The City of Gotham is a never ceasing moving Panorama of the varied phases of universal life, and presents to the eye a wonderful exhibit of the characteristics of all races and nations. It is an instructive sermon to stand upon the steps of this unrivalled hotel and gaze upon the masses, bearing their distinctive peculiarities. New York is always full and the streets are instinct with life, but we must say that with all the uprising of splendid hotels, in point of luxurious comfort and all the constituent elements which serve to make up human bliss, the Astor has no equal, and with such accomplished hosts as Burton and Jones, with all the attaches of this popular hotel, it is no marvel that it is considered the model of hotel life.

Well, your correspondent has journeyed amid the splendors of industry and art, as set forth in the show-cases or show-windows of the world, the products of the Crystal Palace. It is very comfortably warmed up with stoves, and without a doubt, is now the most desirable and advantageous time for visitors to receive satisfaction and benefit, of any period since its opening.—Mr. Bachelder, the Secretary of the Company, we found very polite and attentive, and anxious to communicate all items of interest for the information and benefit of the public. The general features and interior of the Palace have so often constituted the warp and woof of correspondence of the press, that we shall not attempt it, but simply note a few observations as they happen to occur to the mind. It is true that some interesting articles are being removed, but many of novel interest are daily arriving. Some articles of rare interest have just arrived from Syria, and will soon be placed in their appropriate position. Upon arrival in the Palace for the first time, the visitor should move right on until he takes his stand-point directly under the dome, and throw a sweeping glance of the eye around, and thus have a central land mark from which to guide his observations. The bronze Statue of Washington, at this point, elevated as it is upon a high pedestal, presents an august spectacle to the eye; and the Statuary of the Exhibition is, in our estimation, among the most interesting objects of admiration. The day we visited the Palace the Picture Gallery proved to be the most thronged, presenting as it does a galaxy of attraction to the lovers of the fine arts. The whole building is beautifully and brilliantly lit up with six thousand gas burners. In the Picture Gallery alone there are one thousand two hundred and forty burners. In fact, the most interesting time to visit the Palace is in the evening when it is thus brilliantly illuminated.—But more of interest in our next concerning the Crystal Palace.

Barnum, as usual, is making some of his capital hits by the introduction upon the stage of a dramatised edition of that popular story of "Hot Corn," which originally appeared in the New York Daily Tribune, and which has had a more extensive publication in the press of the day than any other we wot of, the scenes of which story are laid at the Five Points, and are drawn from real life. There are some touching and thrilling points in the piece, and it draws tears from eyes "unused to weep." The awful effects of rum are faithfully and most effectively set forth. Barnum has also on the boards "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which draws a perfect jam.—The night we were there, every standing-point was occupied. The winter amusements are in full blast, and all manner of devices are resorted to for the purpose of attracting the public eye.

The great fire of the Harpers' is a very heavy loss to the concern, but with their accustomed energy and tact, they had an office opened for business the next day, and they will soon rise in full plumage.

MARRIAGE UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

The passion for matrimony is getting to be an epidemic, every newspaper you pick up contains a long list of names who have been struck down with the fatal malady. Our own city has been peculiarly favored; not only are "sporadic" cases recorded every day, but "patients" from a distance invade the city and help to swell up the bills. Now, as we don't happen to be a Benedict, and our attempts heretofore have met with so little success, we feel not only some degree of alarm at finding our friends falling around us, but also a deep sympathy for those from abroad, who touch our shores and shortly afterwards lose their single existence. The latest case happened night before last, and was attended with such consequences that we think it deserves more than a passing notice.

A couple, on the evening alluded to, arrived on the Alton Packet and took up their quarters at the Monroe House. They were neither positively young or absolutely old, but of that peculiar age when the fires of youth are supposed to be modified by the discretion of maturer years. The Bridegroom was a jolly fellow, full of hope and as he expressed it, "in a devil of a hurry." As soon as his name was registered, he told the proprietor of the house his object, and that it was all important that he should be married immediately. Accordingly, the worthy host summoned several attendants and sent them in pursuit of that important functionary in such matters, a Justice of the Peace. Away the messengers sped, some up one street and some down another, knocking at every Justice's office they came across, the inmates of which all happened to be out. In the meantime the impatient bridegroom was pacing the floor like a caged tiger, and swearing he would leave the house if some one capable of performing the service did not come within five minutes. He actually thought it was a conspiracy on the part of the host to destroy his promised joy and dash the cup of connubial felicity from his lips. At this stage of the proceedings, several gentlemen who understood the matter, offered their assistance, to secure a Parson or a Justice in a short time: with this assurance on their part, he became more composed and resolved to wait, although he felt that "delays were dangerous." On they went in different directions, and in about half an hour a Minister and a Justice of the Peace were waiting to do the job. The latter, however, being a little ahead, was given the preference.

The candidates for matrimony were in the parlor sitting side by side as loving as two turtle doves, and squeezing each others' hands, as only lovers about to embark upon the sea of matrimony, can look or squeeze. The Justice, who was no other than our friend Peter W. Johnstone, Esq., in slow and measured sentences, proceeded to perform the rite. As soon as the ceremony was concluded, the new and excited husband gave his "blushing" bride such a "buss" as if he had thrown the whole energies of his nature, by a violent effort, into his mouth, and turning around to the company who were assembled, exclaimed, sotto voce—

"How are you all, fellers! I'm just as happy as a mud cat with a buff'ler minner in his gills."

While the Justice was preparing the marriage certificate, he danced about the room like a frantic man, and after hugging one or two of the waiters, returned to his bride, whom he embraced with so much fervor that fears were entertained for her personal safety. She was a stout lady, however, and stood up under the shock with as much firmness as if she "were made of oak."

The marriage certificate was made out and handed to him by the Squire, when he wanted to know the price, but before the former could answer, the newly made husband volunteered his opinion by "guessing it was about sixty cents under the statute in such cases made and provided, as that was the common price in the parts he came from."

The Justice informed him that the laws in this State were a little more generous, and allowed two dollars and a half when the parties were married in the office, but when he went out, it was customary to have a little extra.

"Whew," exclaimed the bridegroom, "two d-o-l-l-a-r-s and a h-a-l-f and a little extra."

And he proceeded to read the certificate over again, after which he handed it to his bride, and she read it and handed it back again.

There was a pause of a few moments, and every body looked at each other, when seemingly by a violent effort he said:

"Well, if I must I must, but I'll be d——d if that corn cake ain't a leetle too much leavened," and jerking from his vest pocket a five dollar piece, thrust it into the Squire's hand, jumped up and roared out, "Good night, fellers."

The small company who were in attendance, commenced immediately to leave, and while they were proceeding along the passage he stuck his head out of the parlor door and called to one of them, with whom he had a partial acquaintance:

"I say Jim, tell the landlord to send up tomorrow morning for my clothes, I [illegible]."

WRECK OF THE SCHOONER WM. F. MERCER.

Norfolk, Dec. 15.

The schooner Wm. F. Mercer, for Philadelphia with a cargo of lumber from Florida, was totally wrecked on Smith's Island, on Friday night last. The crew were rescued after clinging to the shrouds of the vessel for forty-four hours.

THE $10,000 LIBEL SUIT.

The N. Y. Herald takes the verdict against it for $10,000 damages and costs, very coolly. The costs will amount to about $7,000, making the nice sum of $17,000 to be paid to Mr. Fry and the lawyers. The Herald says, it does not care for itself—that $17,000 is no bugbear to it, but it is fearful that the precedent thus established will be prejudicial to the freedom of other and less wealthy journals. It says:

> It is not in the power of any constituted authority on earth to abridge our right of free speech, or to absolve us from our duty of telling the truth at all hazards. The verdict of yesterday is a much more trifling misfortune to us than an east wind would have been three weeks ago. But if peculiar circumstances enable us to pursue a fearless course, in spite of verdicts contrary to law and evidence, it is not so with others. The fine imposed upon us would have crushed many journals, and ruined many honest and enterprising newspaper proprietors. On their behalf—for our case may be theirs to morrow—we protest against the verdict. We protest against the practice of bringing to bear against a newspaper, tried for libel, all the prejudice, all the calumnies, all the private slanders, which, if it has been fearless and outspoken in its past career, it cannot have failed to excite. We demand that a great journal, possessing great influence and great wealth, be judged by the same rule as a private individual; that it be not punished where it has done nothing more than its duty, that irrelevant slander, and impertinent malice be not used to distort its position, or impair its legal claim to justice.
> We have already had occasion to point out to managers and artists the folly of rebelling against the judgments of the press. We have told them, when they appealed to us for pity, that their interest as well as our duty, impelled us to be just. Our pocket is now assailed as well as our feelings; but we shall still persist, as stoutly, as resolutely, as unflinchingly, as before, in our endeavor to naturalize honest, fearless, independent criticisms in this city. Even should the luxury cost us $10,000 an article, the public may rely, as we believe we may say it has always done, on the truth, the sincerity, and the fairness of this branch of the Herald.

The New York press generally exult over the verdict. The Evening Post calls it a righteous decision, and says that if the Jury could have united with it a decree of imprisonment, "it would not have been too severe a punishment for this Caliban of the Press, who for years has outraged decency and morals, almost with impunity.

"It is said that the amount in this verdict is the largest ever awarded on a trial for libel in this country. It ought to be, as it is leveled against the most atrocious libeller that this country ever held."

But by far the most scathing and blasting phillipic which we have read upon this matter, appears in a leader of the Tribune, and which certainly leaves the impression upon the mind of the reader that it was dictated by the liveliest personal animosity. Part of it is too gross for our columns, but the following passage will give an idea of its intensity:

> Immense and immeasurable as are the blackguardism and infamy of The Satanic Press—infamous as it is to a proverb—its conduct toward Mr. E. P. Fry has been more than ordinarily intemperate, indecent, foul and damnable. We own to an exhaustion of rhetoric in any attempt to paint the Satanic and its Editor in such verbal tints as would make their pictures life like. We feel the pauperism of the dictionary—the marasmus of idioms—in all such efforts to describe them. We can understand the starving wretch with tear-withered eyes, with wilted cheeks, with shrunken vitals, and almost pulseless heart, driven to the last of crimes to get the bread to save life. We can understand a Thug, or even in some circumstances a Burke; both belong to Pandemonium, but still they are comprehensible. But the creature who directs The Satanic, who revels in wealth and libels—who amasses and stabs, and stabs and amasses—whose whole life seems made up of the refuse of depravity, is a mystery to us. Cause and effect seem wanting here, and human nature stands aghast at a very Colossus of perversion, boasting that his legs rest on each hemisphere, and spread over a vast ocean.

THE POPE'S NUNCIO AND THE FAITHFUL IN PITTSBURG.

The Pope's Nuncio, Monsignor Bedini, of un happy memory, has lately visited the city of Pittsburgh, where he has been received, by the Catholics of that place, with most extraordinary expressions of regard and devotion, and made the recipient of honors which no man of renown, of talents, of learning and untarnished character, had he not been a Nuncio of the Pope would have received. He was welcomed by a committee, in behalf of the Catholics of Pittsburgh, who welcomed him in an address, the extraordinary character of which may be easily seen by the extracts which we give below. To fully understand the beauty of the thing, let the reader remember that Monsignor Bedini comes to us with a character which Americans and Republicans are not in the habit of regarding with very lively favor. He is the sworn enemy of liberty in Italy, and of every rational means for the amelioration and elevation of her degraded and oppressed population, and he is charged with some most horrifying acts, which will link his name forever with that of Haynau, the woman whipper. Per Contra, he is the Nuncio of the Pope, and this, it appears not only hides a multitude of sins, but throws around Monsignor a halo of glory. The address we spoke of opens thus:

"With feelings of pleasure the most heartfelt and sincere, of respect the most profound, we, the Catholic laity of the City of Pittsburgh and its vicinity, hail to-day your advent amongst us, and extend a cordial and earnest greeting.

We welcome you as the Embassador and immediate representative of His Holiness, Pius the IX, whom, with warmth and devotion, we acknowledge, love, venerate and revere, as our Common Father under God, the illustrious Head of the great united Catholic Family of the world."

"We welcome you too, as the learned and eloquent expounder of Catholic Principles, as the mild, calumniated and patient sufferer and martyr for the faith of Christ, as the humble and pious servant of the Saviour, as the exalted and honest Minister of the Lord.

The announcement of your intended visit to the New World thrilled through every Catholic heart, and the anticipation of your arrival caused every Catholic pulse to beat with joy,

"With gladsome hearts we now behold the consummation of our desires—the day of our longing—the crown-point of our wishes."

We earnestly submit whether such language is befitting the lips and hearts of Americans, addressed to any mortal, and particularly to a man who bears the character of Monsignor Bedini, the Nuncio of his Holiness the Pope to the United States? If it is, we have mistaken the character of a Republican Gentleman.

THE AMISTAD CASE.

The recommendation of President Pierce, that Congress should pay for the African negroes who were on board the Amistad, occasions some discussion, and will probably give rise to pretty warm debates if it should come before Congress.

It was a case of an attempt to import kidnapped Africans into Cuba, contrary to the laws of Spain. The captives rose against those who claimed to own them, and, in endeavoring to reach their own country, they touched at Long Island, where they fell into the hands of some officers of the American navy. This was in the year 1839. The right of the Spaniards who claimed them was afterwards tried in the Circuit Court of the United States, and was pronounced invalid, and they were sent back to Africa. The Hartford Times, a journal which warmly supports the administration, after giving the history of these circumstances, remarks:

"Now, what claim the government or any citizen of Spain has on this government, under any law or treaty stipulation, for these African negroes, it will, it is apprehended, be difficult for the Spanish authorities to show. That they were Africans brought into Cuba that very year in violation of the laws of Spain, there is no question. Had they been legal slaves in Cuba, the case would have been different, and our court would probably have come to a different conclusion in regard to them. As it is, as well may Spain claim indemnity for the seizure of an African slaver on the high seas and the return of the slaves so released, as for the negroes of the Amistad."

THE MOUNT VERNON ESTATE.

In the House of Representatives, on the 13th instant, Mr. Sage, of New York, introduced a joint resolution for the purchase, by Congress, of the lands and appendages known as the Mount Vernon estate.

Mr. Bayly, of Va., moved that the resolution be laid upon the table.

The vote was taken and the motion lost, by yeas 97, nays 102.

A debate ensued.

THE KNUD IVERSON FRAUD.

Whilst waiting in one of our stores, I read in the Catholic Tablet of this city, an account which shook my hitherto strong belief in the Knud Iverson murder. I resolved to investigate the matter thoroughly. I asked, first, where did the story originate?

I have traced it to one of the editors in this city, who is very fond of the marvellous, and who has been noted, for years, for telling very large stories. No man can investigate this matter thoroughly, without tracing it directly to this one man.

Why did he start the story? Was it not for a hoax or a fraud?

Had he merely told the story and then dropped the matter, it might have been considered a hoax merely, an innocent imposition. But he has used this fabrication, this groundless fabrication, for the purpose of making money.

He first manufactured his hero, and then calls for money to build a monument with. He sends extra papers, circulars, handbills, &c., &c. to all the churches in the United States, and begs of them to come to his relief. He urges them to give also in private letters to this monument fund. Looking upon this man as the head of the enterprise, all persons direct their money to him. This is what he intended when he got up the story. Like Barnum's humbugs, it was got up to make money. Such portion as he sees fit, he pays over to the Treasurer. Out of near, if not over, ten thousand dollars, but little over $1,500 has reached the hands of the Treasurer.

Let all persons look into this matter for themselves, and I am confident that ninety-nine out of one hundred will say that the transaction has more ingredients of a fraud than a hoax. Let others do as I have, and examine for themselves.

But we are told that the man who got up this story and who has turned it greatly to his own pecuniary profit, belongs to church, and therefore we must believe every word he says. The fact that his own paper puts in no other defence for him than this, is confirmation doubly strong that the transaction cannot be defended otherwise, and therefore it seeks to evade the defence.

ONE WHO HAS EXAMINED THE CASE.

We find the above in the Chicago Democrat, of Monday the 19th inst., and copy it, for the purpose of exposing its character, and doing justice to the person at whose reputation it aims.

It is a common practice for some editors to write, and publish, in the shape of a "communication," over an anonymous name, what they dare not take the responsibility of uttering in an editorial; and conspicuous above all others, in this respect, has been Mr. Wentworth, the responsible editor of the Democrat. It is a means of "manufacturing public opinion," which unscrupulous politicians resort to, either to advance the ends of their party or their own ambitious schemes, and they seldom seem to care whether the libels are aimed at an association of persons, or are, assassin-like, intended to destroy the character of an individual. It was a part of the means employed to break down Messrs. Ellis & Fergus, publishers of the Democratic Advocate, eight or nine years ago, and subsequently tried against the Tribune, and also the Democratic Press. With the exception of the Democrat, and occasionally one other paper, we believe no daily in this city resorts to such a cowardly plan to defend its own course or defame the character of its cotemporaries.

In regard to the insinuations of dishonesty, and swindling against Mr. Bross, in connection with the Knud Iverson Monument Fund, it is but just to him to say, that no one in this community harbors any such suspicion, and that the attack upon him is entirely malignant. To injure his reputation, would be to measurably destroy the character and influence of the paper of which he is one of the editors and publishers. Just so far as this is accomplished, so far would the Democrat have its circle of influence enlarged, and its prosperity increased; and the files of the latter paper, during a period of nine years, will show that it has never scrupled at the use of the most malignant libels to destroy a cotemporary that interfered in any manner with the pecuniary schemes or political influence and aspirations of Mr. Wentworth.

We do not mean to be understood, however, as fully justifying the course of the editor of the Press in reference to the Iverson Monument scheme. That he entered into it, when it was first suggested with the sincere belief that the boy had been a martyr to his honesty, we have not a doubt; but that political considerations subsequently suggested themselves, and prompted to renewed exertion to gather funds for building a monument, we are equally satisfied, for reasons that need not be mentioned here. We do not intend to intimate, however, that these were the leading motives, but merely incidental to the beautiful idea of building a monument to the memory of a child who it was supposed, died a martyr to his honesty. But the insinuation of the Democrat, that Mr. Bross has been guilty of fraudulently appropriating to his own uses money sent to him as one of the Monument Fund Committee, is a libel of the most calumnious character.

THE EUROPEAN NEWS BY THE ASIA.

The mails of the Asia came to hand on yesterday. The news, part of which he had already received by telegraph may be summoned up as follows:

FROM THE SEAT OF WAR.

Omer Pacha had published his official account of the late operations at Turtukai, from which it would appear that his troops displayed great valor. Owing to the overflowing of the Danube both the Russians and Turks had retired to a distance from its banks, and it would seem that the very inclement weather which had set in would check any decided field action for the present. The Russians were inclined to go into winter quarters if the Turks permitted them, but the latter desire to harrast their foes as much as possible. It appears, also, that the Turks have obtained some brilliant successes in Asia, and their spirit was roused to the highest pitch. The Russians having attempted to close the Sulina mouth of the Danube, four British men-of war were dispatched there with orders to prevent the interruption of trade. Two vessels of the Czar's fleet had been lost in the Black Sea, one of which was carrying troops to besiege Batoum. It is reported that disease prevails extensively among the Turkish soldiers, and that the medical staff is badly organized, and the hospital arrangements inefficent. It was universally believed that a convention had been actually signed betwen England and France during the week, setting the terms upon which they would interfere in the quarrel, and that Austria and Prussia were invited to join it, and be thus drawn from an "armed neutrality." The Sultan had refused to accept the last peace proposition presented to him, and it is likewise reported in our latest telegraphic despatch that the Czar had formally notified England and France of his determination to decline all further propositions from them to negotiate. It is evident that if the other great Powers cannot effect a negotiation during the winter, the war will be renewed upon a very extended scale next spring, and, judging from the spirit recently exhibited on both sides, and the great interests at stake, it is probable it will proceed until Turkey be annihilated, or Russia humbled. In the meantime the Czar continued to withdraw his immense deposits from the banks both of England and France.

IMPORTANT FROM SWEDEN.

The following telegraphic intelligence as to the speech of the King of Sweeden is important, as showing that the concentration of troops in Russia, Findland, and the naval squadron stationed at Helsingfors, have excited the anxiety and apprehension of the Swedes;

Stockholm, Nov. 24, 1854.

The King opened the Diet to-day in person.—His Majesty's speech contained the following passage;—"Agreeably to the demands of my royal duty and the present political position of Europe, I will cause to be laid before you a statement of a complete system of defence. Such a system is imperatively called for in order to place the country in a position to preserve its independence.

France remained tranquil, but there were vague rumors of fresh conspiracies against the life of the Emperor.

The report of the Miguelite revolution in Portugal was not confirmed.

The cholera had appeared with severity in Cork, Ireland.

THE LASALLE DIFFICULTIES.

A gentleman who left Ottawa yesterday evening, informs us that just before he left that place information reached there of further anticipated difficulties at La Salle, and that the Military immediately assembled and started for the scene of the former riot.

☞ Pursuant to an invitation tendered him by several of our citizens, S. Lisle Smith, Esq., of Chicago delivered an address on Thursday evening at the Court House in this city. The house was crowded and the lecture was worthy the distinguished fame of the gifted orator.—All who heard it pronounced it one of the finest displays of eloquence ever given here. It is hoped that Mr. Smith will again find it convenient to address our citizens.—Springfield Register.

THIRTY THIRD CONGRESS.—FIRST SESSION.

Washington, Dec. 15, 1853.

Senate.—It was ordered that when the Senate adjourn, it be till Monday, the 19th.

Mr. Seward, (free soil) of New York, gave notice of a bill for the construction of a railroad through the territories of the United States, from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean.

Mr. Hamlin, (dem.) of Me., gave notice of a bill to satisfy the claims of American citizens for spoliations by the French.

House.—Mr. Houston, (dem.) of Ala., from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported bills making appropriations for the support of the Indian Department, and for the support of the Military Academy for the year ending June 1854. Referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

THE HOMESTEAD BILL.

Mr. Dawson, (dem.) of Pa., from the Committee on Agriculture, reported the Homestead bill. Referred to Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

Washington, Dec. 19.

Mr. Houston, from Committee, reported a bill making appropriations for the civil and diplomatic expenses of the Government for the year ending June, 1855. Also, the bill for supplying deficiencies for the current year. Referred.

Mr. Morris asked unanimous consent to introduce resolutions relative to the death of his colleague, Mr. Atchinson. Mr. Morris delivered an eulogy, and offered resolutions, which were adopted and the Senate adjourned.

House.—The same resolutions were adopted in the House. Adjourned.

THE CALORIC SHIP.—BISHOP HUGHES ON STREET PREACHING.

New York, Dec. 16.

The repairs on the Caloric ship Ericson are nearly completed. She will probably make a trip next week.

From experiments already made here, her owners are confident that she will attain a speed of at least nine miles per hour.

The Ericson is to be placed on the route between this city and Havre, to replace the Humboldt.

Archbishop Hughes has issued an address to the clergy and laity of the Roman Catholic Church, enjoining them to keep away from street preaching, and to observe a peaceful and legal department in all the relations of life. He says further, "I do not wish you to understand that you should degrade yourselves one iota below the highest level of American citizenship. If a conspiracy should arise unrebuked by the public authorities, to a point really threatening destruction to your property, whether private dwellings, churches, hospitals, orphan asylums, or other Catholic institutions; then in case of attack, let every man be prepared in God's name, to stand by the laws of the country, and the authorities of the city, in defence of such rights and property.

The Bishop intimates that the existance of such conspiracy had been insinuated, and that symptoms of so painful a purpose ore not by any means wanting.

The New York Tribune gives, in the following paragraph, a striking illustration of the insufficiency of the plan taken by President Pierce from Mr. Douglas for the improvement of rivers and harbors:

> Gen. Pierce comes out in pointedand bitter opposition to the policy of river and harbor improvement, which he represents as making provision for "works of a local character." We think he takes a narrow and essentially false view of the question. Let us take the case of Mackinac for example. There is urgent need of a good harbor at that point, but no local business or local interest that would either construct or sustain such a harbor. "Then let the State do it," says a Pierce disciple. But the State is Michigan, which has far less interest in the harbor of Mackinac than either Illinois or Wisconsin has. How, then, shall Michigan be expected to tax herself to improve a harbor for the advantage mainly of other States? Obviously, it cannot be expected of her. The question, then, raised by the President is practically between having harbors and doing without them—between affording adequate shelter to our inland commerce, and suffering each gale to strew the shores of our lakes with wrecks and dead seamen.

"DAILY NATIONAL ERA."

Dr. Baily of the National Era, has issued a prospectus for a Daily paper, entitled as above, the first number of which will be issued on Monday, January 2nd. He proposes to publish it for eight months, which will carry it to the close of the present session of Congress, and then if it is too heavy a losing enterprise, it will be discontinued, otherwise, it will be made a regular paper. Dr. B. says the Daily will necessarily have to be mainly sustained by the profits derived from the Weekly Era, the circulation of which is about 30,000.

FROM THE SOUTH.

A despatch from New Orleans states that the decreased receipts of cotton at all the Southern ports, as compared with those of last year at this date, is four hundred and ninety-five thousand bales,

One hundred and eleven persons died of cholera at New Orleans last week, being a great decrease on the mortality occasioned by the disease during the previous seven days.

Dates from Vera Cruz to the 8th inst., state that Santa Anna had been proclaimed Dictator for ten years, and an account from the city of Mexico asserts that he was to be declared Emperor on the 19th inst. Our Minister is said to have informed the Mexican government that unless it immediately confirm the Garay grant, the United States will take possession of the Mesilla Valley. This looks a little like war.—However, Santa Anna will perhaps, in this instance, consider discretion the better part of valor, and graciously yield to the demand.

ANOTHER RESIDENT OF NEW YORK CITY TESTIFIES TO THE GOOD EFFECTS OF DR. McLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS.

HEAR HIM!

New York, August 30th, 1852.

☞ This is to certify that I have had the liver complaint for five years, during which time I have tried almost all known remedies, but to no purpose. Hearing of Dr. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills, I concluded to try a box. I did so, and am now almost cured. I think one box more will effect a permanent cure. I can cheerfully recommend these Pills to all who may suffer from Liver complaint. I have also known them used with the most happy results in cases of sick headache or dyspepsia.

MRS SWIFT, No. 116 Attorney st.

P. S. Dr. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills, also Dr. McLane's Celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all the respectable Drug Stores in this city.

☞ Purchasers will please be careful to ask for, and take none but Dr. McLane's Vermifuge and Liver Pills.—All others, in comparison, are worthless. de20

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

A wonderful Remedy for Bile, Jaundice and Liver Complaints. Extract of a letter from Mrs. Mary Wood, to Mr. Jenkins, Chemist, Christchurch, dated Sept. 12, 1852.

Sir—I suffered for seven months from a liver complaint jaundice, and a severe bilious attack. During the whole of this time I was under medical treatment, but experienced no relief whatever. I was at length recommended to try Holloway's Pills, and am happy to say that this invaluable medicine in a very short period, effected a perfect cure, and restored me to health, so that I can, with confidence, recommend these Pills to others similarly afflicted.

(Signed) de20 MARY WOOD.

COMMERCIAL

CHICAGO MARKET.

Office of the Chicago Daily Tribune, Monday Evening, Dec. 19.—7 P. M.

The cool weather of to-day did not increase operations either in produce or any other marketable product. Millers are buying but little Wheat; and the sales in all kinds of grain has been very limited. Dealers from Michigan are buying more than our local operators. Butter is plenty, and dull at low rates. Eggs are also abundant, and selling slowly.

We notice sales as follows:

WHEAT.—100 bu best winter at $1, for milling; 300 bu prime spring to warehouse, at 82c.

CORN.—No transactions.

OATS.—500 bu delivered to Michigan Central Railroad depot at 28c—500 bu delivered to warehouse at 27c—two car loads (about 475 bu) sold on the track at 28c.

BARLEY.—1300 bu sold in two lots delivered to Michigan Central R R depot at 45c—1000 bu sold to brewers at 47@48c. The market is well supplied, and lots are not disposed of very readily—except to Michigan buyers.

BUTTER.—Dull and plenty. The rates is 10@12c.

EGGS.—Plenty in market, and selling at 15@16c.

POTATOES.—40 bu sold at the depot for 35c ℔ bu.

ONIONS.—A small lot at 40c, at depot.

HOGS.—There were 53 at depot, and retailing at $4@4.25.

(SOUTHERN MICHIGAN LINE.)

NEW YORK MARKET—Dec. 19.—7 P. M.

FLOUR.—Demand for Western and State is fair for export, but the increased firmness of holders limits transactions. The price of better grades are a trifle better. Canadian steady. Sales: 6,000 bbls at $6,87@7.00. Western Canal, at $7@7.12 for mixed fancy Michigan and common to good Ohio.

GRAINS—There is little prime WHEAT offered, and the market is buoyant. Demand fair. Sales: 3,000 good Southern Red, at $1.62 1,000 inferior white Southern, at $1.63.—RYE quiet. Sales: 1200 bu Jersey, at $1,06 afloat.—BARLEY unchanged. Sales: 2,000 fair two rowed, at 82c.—OATS plenty, and heavy, at 49@52c for State and Western.—CORN lower, and demand good for export as decline. Sales: 36,000 bu at 76@77c for New Jersey; 78@79c for Southern yellow; 79c for new white do; 80c for Western mixed; 81@82c for old round yellow.

WHISKEY.—Market firmer, and fair demand. Sales: 500 bbls at 28¼c for Ohio.

PROVISIONS.—Fair demand for Pork at $13.37@14.50 for mes; $11@12 for prime.—Beef steady at $8.50@ 1 for country mess; $5@5.62 for prime.—Lard steady 9¾@10¼c

LYON'S KATHAIRON.

☞ We wish to call the attention of the public to a source of luxury, comfort and happiness—to past neglect and a present opportunity of amendment. The numerous cases of baldness in America is truly surprising. The young can not take warning, or the old apply a remedy too soon.—Who that is old, but would avert baldness? Who that is middle aged but shudders at gray hairs? Who that is young but values the luxuriant locks of youth and beauty? Effects like these are stayed, and many years of otherwise premature old age is regained to youth by using Lyon's Kathairon.

Lyon's Kathairon is but 25 cents, in large bottles. Sold throughout the world, by all dealers. D. S. Barnes, Proprietor, 161 Broadway, N. Y. del

LOCAL MATTERS.

CARD PRINTING.

We desire to say to Merchants, and the trading community generally, that we have facilities for printing

50,000 Cards Daily.

Our selections of Type are new and of the most beautiful styles, and our Card Boards are of the very best character.

We trust our friends and the public also, will remember us, for we intend they shall not regret their choice.

AN EXPLANATION.

The Press, upon which our morning edition of yesterday was worked being out of order, we were not able to get but the inside of the edition worked in time for the mails and our city subscribers. This will account for the remarkably blank appearance of the outside of yesterday's paper.

We have one request to make of our friends whose papers mysteriously disappear from their door steps, particularly on rainy and windy mornings. If they will devote a very few moments to arranging a box near their door for the reception of the Tribune, we will guarantee its safe delivery every morning before breakfast time. Try the plan, ye patrons, and thank us for the suggestion.

PUBLIC MEETING.

The undersigned, citizens of the State of Illinois, earnestly recommend a meeting on Tuesday evening, at the City Hall, at 7 o'clock, to take into consideration, and, if possible, devise some means to arrest the gross outrage upon the rights of the West now being perpetrated at Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. A mob, by lawless violence, has broken up our great thoroughfare to the sea-board, and without any appeal to the local tribunals, now, with arms in their hands, forcefully resist all attempts to replace it. Our interests are so deeply and extensively affected, as not only to justify our mutual consultation as to a remedy, but to make such a step an immediate and paramount duty.

A large number of locomotives, now needed for our Western Roads, are arrested by the mob—our wives and children, at this inclement season, are unexpectedly forced to submit to its severity—and the vast body of our commerce, without the shelter of a depot or protection of any kind, is dragged for miles in open wagons and over deep roads, to the new terminus beyond Erie, created by the outrage.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

The Concert given by this Society on last evening, was attended by an excellent audience, and passed off admirably. Too much praise cannot be awarded to this Society for the skill and taste which they exhibit in their efforts to delight and improve the taste of our citizens. The "Lay of the Bell" elicited the warmest admiration, and the entire performance received high encomiums from those whose approbation is well worth having.

POLICE COURT.

Before Judge Rucker. The dock was thronged yesterday morning, the Court Room full of spectators, and a large crowd was assembled on the outside. The excitement was caused by a report having spread that the City Marshall, with a posse of the Watch, had captured a flock of "sand birds" the evening previous. The first case called was that of—

John Bell and Matthew Daniel, who were arrested at 11½ o'clock on Saturday evening, for fighting and causing a disturbance at the Yorkshire House. They acknowledged the charge, and each paid $6,12½ to get his liberty.

Joseph H. Key was arrested on complaint of a Dutchman, for being disorderly on Saturday evening, at a house occupied by the two. The plaintiff failed to tell a straight story, and the defendant was discharged. The Dutchman must learn to talk before he again attempts to give evidence.

Margaret Gilligan was discharged from the Bridewell on Sunday morning, but was not long out before she was again drunk, and in the streets, shouting "murder." She edified a whole congregation as she was being taken to the Watch House the same afternoon, just as Church service was over. Margaret was fined $5, and re-committed for 90 days.

Alexander Mooney, came into the city on Sunday morning to seek a brother in-law, but must first patronize a Saloon, and from thence he soon got into the officer's hands. Fined $5 and costs.

John Baker, alias John Clark, and two or three other John's. This individual threw a brick into the window of a grog shop on North Water street, late on Sunday evening. He called for some liquor, and then refused to pay for the same, and wanted to stay all night. The proprietor pushed him out doors, and John concluded he was "a very much abused man." $5 and costs of prosecution were collected of him.

Jane Sheaver, barefooted and without any head covering. She was taken to the Watch House on Sunday forenoon, for drunkenness—poor, befallen woman! Her thin apparel did not contrast very well with the cool temperature of yesterday morning. Jane said she had not been before the Court for a year and a half, and then "it was for a fuss with her old man!" She was fined $3, which she will pay by her presence at the Bridewell for one week.

Here the "rank and file" from the Sand were called up, and answered to their names as follows:

Norman W. Sherwood, John Brown, Edward Higgins, (recently from Rochester, N. Y.) Richd Markham, John Fauble, Christian Oetzel, John O'Brien, Amos Smith, (better known by the title of "Gassy") E. D. Sherman, John Merrall, John Gayee, Edward Pickering, (the two last are musicians,) John Bernard, Francis Gardner, (circus clown) Peter La Grau, (bar-tender) Jane Wilson, Jane Woodward, (has had her name published before,) Ross Wilson, and Emily Parker—19 in all. Two others, a man and woman, were also brought up, but it appearing that they were there for "the washing," they were discharged by the Court, but not till some advice was given them as to the propriety of calling at such a place on Sunday night.

These interesting individuals were charged with dancing, fiddling, rioting, &c., on Sunday evening, at a dance house on the Sand, owned by Wm. Reese, (who is now in jail for the murder of Constable Quinn,) and kept by his wife, Roxanna Reese. Several plead guilty, while others attempted to make the Court believe they were there from curiosity, and it was their first visit, &c. They were individually fined from $2 to $10, according to their merits, with costs of prosecution added in each case. The money was quickly paid, amounting in all to $146.92!

The total revenue from fines and costs of prosecution, collected yesterday morning, was $183,33! The Police Court affords a better revenue to the City Treasury than the existing war on the Water Commissioners!

AMUSEMENTS THIS EVENING.

At the Theatre, the admirable play of "Anne Blake" will be repeated, and the farce of "A. S. S." will be again performed.

At Warner's Hall, the third lecture of the course before the Mechanics' Institute, by Dr. A. L. MCARTHUR, of Joliet.

At North Market Hall, the second Annual Ball by the Garden City Engine Company No. 6.

THEATRICAL.—It will be seen that Mr. HENRY SEDLEY announces his benefit for to-morrow night. The bill is the most attractive one we have had this season, and should draw a very full house, besides the personal merits of the benificiary, which alone should insure him a "bumper."

TEA PARTY.—The Ladies of the African Methodist Episcopal Church give a Tea Party this evening, also on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week, and on Monday evening, the 26th, in the basement of their church building, corner of Buffalo and Jackson streets. The object of the party is most worthy, being to raise means to fit up and furnish their church room. We need hardly say, though it is true, that in getting up a tea party, the ladies of the African Methodist Church display a taste not surpassed if equalled, by their white sisters of other churches. That the entertainments will be of the most agreeable character, we have not a doubt, and we cordially commend them to the patronage of our citizens.

RAILROAD BALL.—The Rock Island Assembly will give their first Annual Ball, on Friday evening next, at Washington Hall. The best of music has been secured, and every arrangement has been made to have a good time. As this is a Mechanics' Ball, we trust the Mechanics of the city generally will attend, with their "sweethearts and wives" and swell the "merrie companie."

"On with the dance! Let joy be unconfined!
No rest till morn when youth and beauty meet,
To chase the glowing hours with flying feet."

YOUNG MENS' CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—There will be a meeting of the above Association at their rooms, No. 48 Clark street, this evening at 8 o'clock. Business of importance will come before the meeting, and a full attendance of the members is requested.

DIORAMAS.—Dioramic Paintings of the Creation, Nativity of Christ, Court of Babylon, &c., Crucifixion, &c. &c., are to be exhibited in this city shortly. Papers in those cities and towns where they have been exhibited, speak highly of them.

DESCENT ON THE SAND.—The neighborhood on the North beach, which has become so notorious from the scenes of riot and murder perpetrated there, has finally roused the attention of our city authorities. Mayor GRAY, with the aid of City Marshall HOWE and the whole police force, are determined to rout the entire settlement.—As there is no law to allow the buildings to be torn down, and the settlement broken up in that mode, the authorities are determined to destroy it by routing the inhabitants and visitors two or three time each week, and have them severely fined, and imprisoned in the Bridewell.

On Sunday evening about 8 o'clock, Marshall Howe, with Capt. McCarthy, of the Night Watch, and a posse of 28 officers, proceeded to the settlement on the North beach, and arrested every individual found in the dance hall, and escorted them all to the Watch House. The proceedings of their examination will be noticed in our report of the Police Court.

Marshall Howe is entitled to much praise for his active steps in carrying out this expedition; and his determination to break up the settlement by frequent descents will gain him the esteem of every honorable member of society.

MUSICAL FAIR.—We call attention to the advertisement of Messrs. KNAUER & FRESE, who purpose holding a Musical Fair, in the South Market Hall. These gentlemen are not only highly accomplished manufacturers of Musical Instruments, but they are equally skilled in their use.

☞ We refer the attention of our readers, and architects especially, to the communication in this day's paper in reference to "The Ventilation of our Public Halls." The article is written by a gentleman of practical experience, and his suggestions are worthy of consideration. We trust his previous communications, which have appeared in our paper, have not been overlooked.

LAST TRIP.—Capt. COOPER brought the Traveller into port yesterday afternoon, with about 40 passengers and a large load of freight from Milwaukee. She will make no more trips this season, unless the weather moderates within a day or two. The Pacific will also go into winter quarters immediately.

SUICIDE IN THE WATCH-HOUSE.—A stranger name unknown, committed suicide in the Watch House on Sunday evening. He was apparently a German, about forty or forty-five years of age, and thinly dressed for this season of the year. He had passed three previous nights in the Watch House, having applied for shelter, and saying he was from the country, had no money or friends, and was seeking employment. After warming himself at the stove on Sunday evening, he was put into a cell at half-past seven o'clock, and in about two hours after, was found hung with a small cord to the grating of the cell door. When taken down, life was extinct. Coroner Hines was sent for, and held an inquest on the corpse. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above circumstances. The body was afterwards buried in the Potter's Field.

ROBBERY.—A traveler named George Voss, stopping at the Merchants' Exchange, was robbed of $200 in money on Saturday night last.—His room was locked, and the key left in the lock on the inside. The key was turned by forceps, probably, and the money taken without awakening the owner. No traces of the robber had been discovered up to last evening.

AN "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN" AMONG THE SINGING BOOKS.

"THE SHAWM," a "Library of Church Music," (as it is termed,) by Messrs. Bradbury and Root, assisted by Messrs. Hastings and T. B. Mason, is having a sale, we are informed, quite as wonderful in its way as was that of Mrs. Stowe's far famed work. Scarcely four months have elapsed since its first publication, and the almost incredible number of forty-eight thousand copies have already been printed, while the demand shows no signs of diminution. This sale is vastly greater than any other similar work ever had in the same time.—New York Evangelist.

☞ DR. A. L. ADAMS' INVALUABLE LIVER BALSAM is fast taking the precedent of all other medicines now before this great commonwealth, with a rapidity which is in (these times) wonderful. It has safely wrought its own battles in the most quiet and unostentatious manner. Within the past few months its reputation, of high tone, has become firmly established among thousands who have been restored from disease, which was fast hurrying them to a premature death.

Dr. A. L. Adams' Liver Balsam perfectly restores the liver in all its functions to a healthy state, and whereas it is a well established fact that most diseases are more or less incumbent on diseases of the liver for their type, those suffering from any form of disease, can have the most sanguine confidence that health, with all its beauty, will again dawn in upon them, by the use of Dr. A. L. Adams's Liver Balsam. It has cost the originator twenty years of scientific and profound research, to be clearly able to give his invaluable medicine to the public, with a confidence that it would produce the salutary effect. The complicated work has been effected, and its proclamation is heard by an intelligent people, giving it a reliable basis which ages will not obliterate. Warranted in every case.

DISCOVERED AT LAST.
A Mystery Explained.
A Revolution is Certain—Victory is Ours!

Dr. A. L. Adams'

NEW THEORY OF DISEASE is awakening the inquiry in the minds of all who read it: How is it that Americans have been so long and so slavishly immured in darkness and ignorance on the subject of disease.

DR. A. L. ADAMS' LIVER BALSAM,
THE GREAT PANECEA OF DISEASE,

is offered to the afflicted of the States and Territories, for the entire cure of Liver Complaints in all stages, Bilious Fever, Ague and Fever, Chronic Lung Fever, Dropsical Affections, Consumption, Bowel Complaints, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Rheumatism, Bleeding Piles, Blind Piles, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Dyspepsia, General Debility, Nervousness, Costiveness, Indigestion, Obstructed Menstruation, &c.

Dr. A. L. Adams' Liver Balsam has stood the week and test for the last fifteen years, and has proved to the most skeptical, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that it is

THE ONLY RELIABLE MEDICINE EVER DISCOVERED,

(being purely all vegetable) for the permanent cure of the above diseases. The most skeptical have become its most sanguine votaries, and pronounce the Liver Balsam to be the

Only Reliable Harbinger of Health
TO THE AFFLICTED, EVERYWHERE.

Testimonials come up from every track it has made, swollen with expressions of gratitude, for the relief received by its use. And in submitting this, the Liver Balsam is recommended to all those suffering under the

and at once procure one bottle of Dr. A. L. Adams' Liver Balsam.

The reader is referred to the Medical Tract, found by making application to the Agents, where the Balsam is sold, giving a full epitome of the cause and cure of all diseases; containing, also, certificates from those who have tested its unparalleled ascendancy over the diseases to which we are all subject. THE HUMOROUS SPEAKER:

A CHOICE COLLECTION OF AMUSING PIECES, both in prose and verse, designed for the use of Schools, Literary Societies, Debating Clubs, Social Circles and Domestic Entertainment—by Oliver Oldham.

This Book is a fine combination of what is useful with what is agreeable. It is just the thing to dissipate the gloom of severer studies, and give relief and life to the exercises of a school room. Here are Dialogues, Soliloquies and Speeches, of every name and style, all full of fun, wit and humor; yet without vulgarity, and without evil tendency of any kind. The work is primarily for schools. But it is equally adapted to debating societies, home circles and private readers.

[From the New York Daily Times.]

"The selections are well made, and embrace extracts from the most humorous writers of England and America, with translations of the best of [illegible] Fables, and [illegible] humorous lyrics. Thus the good things of Hood, Saxe, Horace Smith, Judge Haliburton, Hawthorne, Dickens, Holmes and the Ingoldsby Legends, are mingled with the best things of Coleman, Garrick, Goldsmith, Wolcot, and others of the last century. Great care has evidently been taken to admit nothing bearing the likeness of an equivoque or a double entendre."

[From the Highland Eagle.]

"While it has the power to promote laughter, it does not do it at the expense of chastity, purity, or an elevated morality. It is a readable and agreeable book."

[From the Lutheran Observer.]

"If any one desires a book with which he may occasionally while away a dull hour over the finest witticisms, the best humorous compositions, and most amusing and sometimes instructive dialogues, &c. in the English language, here is the book that will suit him; and if there be a time to laugh as well as to cry, and the reader would prefer laughing at something neither vulgar nor demoralizing, he should buy this book."

☞ The retail price of the Humorous Speaker is one dollar, and the book is sent by mail to teachers, post paid, on their sending the publishers that sum.

☞ A liberal discount to those who purchase by the dozen or larger quantity.

BY TELEGRAPH

REPORTED EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.

Judge Mason, Minister to France, will sail on the 24th Dec.

Considerable excitement was created here yesterday, growing out of the street preaching of Mr. Parsons. Fortunately, all passed off quietly. Parsons preached at same place as on previous Sunday, to a crowd of from 15,000 to 20,000 persons.

BOSTON, Dec. 19.

Mr. Gray, Depot Master at Quincy, was found upon the Railroad badly crushed, this morning, while attaching cars.

The freight train from Boston was thrown off the track at Denefield. No lives lost.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 19.

New Orleans mails are received. The papers contain details of Mexican news, up to the 8th. The only items of news is the statement of plan of Gaudalja, relative to prolonging Santa Anna's power.

SALEM, Dec. 19.

Buenos Ayres state that much discontent prevails throughout the Provinces. The federal party have a decided majority, being opposed to the government. Produce was very scarce.

CHARLESTON, Dec. 19.

Fears are entertained here of the Revenue Cutter Jackson, which sailed from Savannah on the 25th for Norfolk, having on board Captain Day, Lieut. Forrest, and six sailors.

The Bank of Charleston, with a capital of $3,000,000, has been established.

BURLINGTON, Dec. 19.

The Free Soil Democrats of this State are greatly excited against the old line Democrats. They have held conventions in Washington Co., at which they bitterly denounce all who voted for Robinson and Kinner. They have also established a paper at Montpelier.

APOPLEXY.

This dreadful complaint is generally preceded by pain in the head, giddiness, especially on turning suddenly round, dimness of sight, stupor, loss of memory, and other unpleasant symptoms, which indicate a loaded and corrupt state of the blood.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are a certain preventive of apoplexy, because they expel from the body those stagnant and corrupt humors, which are the cause of this and every malady incident to man.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills also aid and improve digestion, as well as purify the blood, and therefore drive disease of every name from the body.

$100 REWARD!

☞ Information wanted of the death of a little girl named SARAH ANN, belonging to P. O. Donoghue, of Chicago, who was formerly of Cincinnati, Ohio. Said child was brought from Cincinnati in the fall of 1841, by a man named John McNells, who is supposed to have lived at some place on the Illinois river previous to moving to Ottawa the last of the year 1842, or nearly in 1843. As there are reasons for thinking that the child went into other hands previous to its death, it is particularly requested of undertakers living in the vicinity of Chicago at that time, to refer to their books to ascertain if such a child has been interred. Who ever can give any information whereby the facts of the child's death can be established, shall receive the above reward. Address S. P. SKINNER, 72 State st., Chicago, Ill.

100 COPIES MORE.

A TRUE LIFE—The Man of a Thousand Years—Isaac T. Hopper, a true life, by Lydia Maria Child.

This biography of Isaac T. Hopper is one of the most remarkable men the world has ever seen. His deeds of philanthropy and mercy, covering a period of nearly fifty-three years, engaged him and only in the thousands who were the immediate participants of his benevolence, but in the whole human race.

With truth, he may be called the "Howard of America." Mrs. Child having spent several years in his family, is perfectly familiar with his history, at all others is the person to write a "True Life" of the noble man, and her task has been performed in her best manner. D. B. COOKE & CO., 125 Lake st.

French Perfumery, Brushes, &c.

WE have just received a large and very choice variety of Lubin's and other superior Extracts, Soaps, Pomades, &c.; also, a fine assortment of Hair, Tooth, Nail and Shaving Brushes, Dressing Combs, Wicker Flasks, Tweezers, Shaving Paper, Gum Tickets, Trusses, Bandages, &c., all of our own importation, direct from the manufacturers in France.

We would call the attention of dealers and families to the above goods, as they are all direct importations, and can be sold at lower prices than the same articles are usually sold. [illegible] F. SCAMMON & CO., 140 Lake st.

Cough Remedy!

DR. ROGERS'
LIVERWORT, SYRUP OF
TAR &
CANCHALAGUA!

FOR THE COMPLETE CURE OF Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Spitting Blood, Asthma, Bronchitis,
AND ALL OTHER LUNG COMPLAINTS TENDING TO CONSUMPTION!

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED!!

DR. ROGERS' LIVERWORT, TAR AND CANCHALAGUA has rescued its multitudes from the grave. Do you ask for the evidence? THEN CALL ON THE AGENT, and get a pamphlet, a new paper is issued to contain it. In that pamphlet you will find such authenticated cases of individuals who were, in very deed, rescued from the grave; for they were upon the very verge of it, and given up to die by our best physicians and most skillful medical professors, when the Liverwort and Tar came to their rescue and delivered them back to their friends. Although many of the cures seem almost incredible, yet they are not so; cures we have given their real names, and their exact place of residence, so that they may be seen, and the facts heard from their own mouths. The cures are fully corroborated by physicians—learned professors of medicine, who are well known and are of the highest standing in our land, who have been compelled to yield to these stubborn facts; no one can dispute such evidence.

WE CHALLENGE THE WHOLE WORLD!

To produce more bona fide evidence, in any court of justice, than we have in favor of this medicine.

We defy the physicians of every school, and all the medicines that have ever been invented, to produce evidence of such remarkable cures as have been made by DR. ROGERS' LIVERWORT, TAR and CANCHALAGUA.

WE CONFIDENTLY ASK THE AFFLICTED

(NOT TO PURCHASE OUR MEDICINE)

But to examine our Pamphlet, and see for themselves, whether the evidence is as convincing as we say it is, so it may prove a great blessing to you.

IT COSTS BUT LITTLE TO GIVE IT A FAIR TRIAL.

Compared to what a physician charges—but little when compared to what you value your health!

What is the value of money without health?

BEWARE OF COUGHS AND COLDS!

Recollect that coughs and colds are the forerunners of Consumption. DR. ROGERS' LIVERWORT, TAR AND CANCHALAGUA will break up the most distressing cough or cold in a few hours' time. In many cases of years standing, a radical cure has been effected in a very short time, by strictly following the directions. We doubt not but there are now

THOUSANDS OF LIVING WITNESSES!

Who would have been in their graves if they had not used this medicine, arresting the disease before it became too late.

☞ Who are those who have certified to the great value of this medicine? You will find the names of such men as HON. JUDGE WM. BURKE, late Postmaster of Cincinnati, for more than twenty years; W. T. [illegible], Esq., Proprietor of the Cincinnati Daily Times; HON. JOHN A. COLLINS, [illegible] and Lecturer of the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance; [illegible] W. W. FERNOY, [illegible] Ed. tor of the Greenville Patriot; J. BENNELENDY, [illegible] and D. K. LEAVITT, [illegible] Deacons of the Vine Street Congregational Church, Cincinnati, Ohio.

FROM MAJOR VAN BUREN,

Brother of Martin Van Buren, Ex-President of the United States.

KINDERHOOK, N. Y., Sept. 20th, 1852.

Mr. A. L. Scoville—Dear Sir: Having occasion to use an Expectorant and Cough Remedy in a few cases I was recommended by the Rev Mr. [illegible] this place, to try a Liverwort, Tar and Canchalagua; [illegible] and I CHEERFULLY RECOMMEND IT TO OTHERS, as a Cough Remedy. L. VAN BUREN.

KINDERHOOK, N. Y. Sept. 24, 1852.

I fully concur in the above statement. FREDERICK T. TIFFANY, Rector of the Episcopal Church.

☞ WOULD IT BE POSSIBLE ☜

For such men, of so high standing, to be induced to deceive the poor consumptive?

☞ Be sure and ask for Dr. Rogers' Liverwort, Tar and Canchalagua, and let no other be palmed upon you.

☞ Sold by [illegible] BLAKESLEY, southwest corner of Third & Chestnut streets, St. Louis, General Agents for the West.

NEVER FAILING REMEDY!

Holloway's Ointment.

A CRIPPLE SETS ASIDE HIS CRUTCHES AFTER TEN YEARS SUFFERING.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thompson, Chemist, Liverpool, dated August 20th, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR,—I am enabled to furnish you with a most extraordinary cure effected by your invaluable Ointment and Pills, which has astonished every person acquainted with the sufferer. [illegible] Mr. W. Cummins, of [illegible] street, in this town, was thrown from his horse, whereby he received very serious injuries; he had the best medical advice at the time, and was afterwards an inmate of different hospitals, yet he grew worse, and at length a malignant running ulcer settled in his hip, which so completely crippled him, that he could not move without crutches for nearly ten years; recently he began to use your Ointment and Pills, which have now healed the wound, strengthened his limb, and enabled him to dispense with his crutches, so that he can walk with the greatest ease, and with renewed health and vigor. (Signed) J. THOMPSON.

A MOST EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF A DREADFUL SKIN DISEASE WHEN ALL MEDICAL AID HAD FAILED.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Hird, Draper, of Ready, near Gainsboro', dated March 1st, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—Some time since one of my children was afflicted with dreadful eruptions over the body and limbs. I obtained the advice of several eminent Surgeons and Physicians, by all of whom the case was considered hopeless. At length I tried your Ointment and Pills, and without exaggeration, the effect was miraculous, for by persevering in their use, all the eruptions quickly disappeared, and the child restored to perfect health.

I previously lost a child from a similar complaint, and firmly believe, had I in her case adopted your medicine she would have been saved also. I shall be happy to testify the truth of this to any enquirer. J. HIRD, Draper.

CERTAIN REMEDY FOR SCORBUTIC HUMORS—AND AN ASTONISHING CURE OF AN OLD LADY SEVENTY YEARS OF AGE, OF A BAD LEG.

Copy of a Letter from Messrs. Walker & Co. Chemists, Bath.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

BUFFALO AND NEW YORK CITY RAIL ROAD.
THE undersigned are authorized to contract Freights from Buffalo to New York via this Road, and also from Buffalo to Hornellsville, and all intermediate stations.
The New York and Erie R. R. from N. Y. to Hornellsville, and the Buffalo and N. Y. City R. R. from Hornellsville to Buffalo, affords the quickest and most reliable route for Freight from New York to Buffalo and the west.
The facilities for shipping to and from Buffalo by steam around the Lakes, and via the Mich. Central and Southern Railroads, give this a great advantage over the Dunkirk route. Greater despatch may therefore be expected.
Freight sent through between New York and Buffalo without change of cars.

Chicago Female Seminary
NO'S 166, 168, & 170 CLARK ST.
A. J. SAWYER, A. M., & LADY, PRINCIPALS.
THE WINTER TERM OF THIS INSTITUTION will commence on MONDAY, NOV. 21, 1853. No pains have been spared to secure, for the coming year, Teachers of the highest rank in every department. Most of the former teachers will remain, while three Graduates of superior Eastern Seminaries, and teachers of acknowledged ability, have been added to the numbers.
Native teachers in German and French—the gentlemen in the latter at great expense—have been secured.
A Music Room has been provided, and the former teacher in this department will devote her whole time to the members of the institution, so that young Ladies can take their music lessons without walking home, or losing recitations. An experienced Teacher will have charge of the class in Painting and Drawing.—The Principals are determined to merit the liberal patronage they are receiving.

227 The Empire Clothing Store. 227
E. B. HURD & CO.,
HAVE opened the Store 227 Lake street, which they are now filling with a new and complete stock of CLOTHING and GENTS. FURNISHING GOODS and which they now offer, wholesale and retail, at such prices as defy all competition.
E. B. HURD & CO. would respectfully intimate that having a large wholesale manufactory in Connecticut, from which they daily send out to all parts of the Union, an immense supply of every description of Clothing, they have facilities peculiar to themselves for supplying the public with a well made article, and of such style and workmanship as will insure the admiration of all who honor them with a call.
COUNTRY MERCHANTS, especially, will find it to their interest to give us a call before either making a purchase in Chicago, or proceeding to any Eastern market. We can sell at New York prices, less insurance freight, and the expense of a journey to that city. Our goods are made by first-rate workmen and at less expense than they can possibly be made for in a new city. As our terms are prompt payment and small profits, none of our customers will have to pay for other people's bad debts.
E. B. Hurd & Co. intend to make their establishment, The Empire Clothing Store, which shall be worthy the patronage of Gentlemen of refined taste, and where the farmer and the mechanic will be able to obtain the cheapest and the best of Cloths.
Mark the address, 227 Lake Street near the corner Franklin St.

C. L. HARMON & CO., 197 So. Water st., Chicago.
And by B. H. CHADBOURNE, GALLATIN ASHTON, H. S. CHAMBERLAIN, } Traveling Ag'ts.
To my friends and customers, and to all in want of perfect Scales at moderate prices, I wish to say that I shall continue my residence at Chicago, where I shall be happy to answer their orders. I shall keep all the different parts of Scales on hand, and have with me at all times a competent and experienced Mechanic, ready to repair any Scale manufactured by E. & T. Fairbanks & Co., that may accidentally become injured. I shall also keep with me a sufficient number of experienced builders of Railroad, Hay, and other large Scales, to enable me to supply those in want at short notice. The necessary timber of the best quality, can be ordered always on hand.
All business letters answered promptly, and all orders as Scales attended to with the least possible delay.
I may be found at all times by enquiry being made at C. L. HARMON & CO.
